The PIDX Community continues its strong commitment to developing industry-relevant standards even whilst a large number of organizations are still affected by the global pandemic. This shows how PIDX is here to work on relevant industry issues such as our Emissions Transparency and Reporting project, ETDX, one of a series of strategic initiatives that came from the Innovation Days the PIDX board held with the Industry in February 2019. We are leading the way in Scope 3 Emissions Reporting and collaborating widely on this for the industry.

Developing a new standard can take a significant amount of time and resources, and a lot of dedication from the people who participate in a project team. The investment that the industry puts into standards development emphasizes the importance of the standards. However, beyond just developing standards, we want to encourage adoption so that they are put into practice and the industry can benefit from them.

Stephanie Waters, Chevron Data and Insights Portfolio Manager and PIDX President
